Alloway Urges Senate to Pass HB2525 which will Decrease the Cruelty and Abuse to Animals in Pennsylvania

Rich Alloway, Candidate for the 33rd District Senatorial Seat shares strong support Pennsylvania HB2525 which would change the current standing dog law to further decrease the cruelty and abuse to animals in Pennsylvania. This legislation has passed in the House of Representatives on Wednesday, September 17, and now has been sent to the Senate.

Alloway stated, “I have spoken with Senator Punt’s office as well as other Senators and I have strongly urged them to have this bill considered and passed by the Senate prior to the end of this legislative session.” He also stated, “I feel very strongly about this legislation and feel it is time that this cruelty to animals stops. It is time for Pennsylvania to pass this law and improve the lives of dogs in our state – it is time to make Pennsylvania an emblem for change!”

Alloway is an animal lover. He and his wife Shannon own and care deeply for their two miniature mixed dachshunds.
