National Rifle Association of America Endorses Alloway

The National Rifle Association of America (NRA) and all of the members in the State of Pennsylvania rated Rich Alloway an "A" rating and endorsed him for the 2008 General Election. The members of the NRA interpret Alloway's "A" rating as being a pro-Second Amendment/pro-hunting candidate who supports sportsmen and gun owners. The National Rifle Association of America defends and fosters the Second Amendment rights of all law-abiding Americans.

Rich Alloway stated, "I am honored to have the endorsement of the National Rifle Association." He also stated, "I strongly support the constitutional right of law-abiding citizens to own firearms. This right is just as important as the first amendment right."
